Student Achievement - Transfer Graduate GPA's

Student Achievement Criteria Two: Transfer Graduate GPA's
Criteria Two	Transfer Graduate GPA's
Rationale for Selection of Criteria 2: Alignment to Mission	Since the College's Graduation Rate is being measured by IPEDS data that only measures a selected population of students, PRCC is also choosing to measure student achievement by comparing its graduates' GPA upon graduation from an in-state, public institution (IHL) bachelor's program compared against the GPA's of both graduates from other in-state community colleges and native students from the state's public bachelor's degree granting institutions (IHL). These data align with the College's mission which says that the College is "committed to providing quality educational. . .opportunities"
Threshold of Acceptability	PRCC students' graduate GPA's will exceed the IHL native students' graduation GPA's.
